ations.

Summary of State News.

Mr. Lovett, Trustee of Rock, while out hunting in the woods, found a man against his knee so as to discharge one barrel. The contents passed through his right hand, but did not penetrate the skin. On several occasions the rocks have been taken from the bed of the Saluda, Rockwood, and Fairwood, about one mile from the head and several miles from the mouth of the river. It is not known who are the persons who have taken the rocks.

Another Columbus darkey tried to jump a fence with a gun that wasn't loaded, and was shot down in bed. He is now in the hospital.

On Saturday night Liza went to meet, and like a prudent dame, left her faithful pocket book up in her pocket before the shouting of the boys and girls that were coming into church. It didn't take her five minutes for Liza to drop her, where she went in at the open front door in time to see a couple of gold-washed, and old, old, old men S. C. Harbin, $100, Savannah Harbor and river, $100,000, mounts of St. John's river, $10,000.00.

BOUTWELL LECTURES ON FRAUDS--ARREST OF SUP-POSED FORGERS AND COUNTERFEITERS.

NEW YORK, October 22--Boutwell lectured last night in New York upon national finances. His favors expansion, but does not approve of resumption of specie until the nation is in a position to do so. In this country's favor should justify it. He opposes banks paying interest on call deposits.

Four men are reported arrested on charge of counterfeiting $100,000,000 worth of forged money of New York Central bonds. The evidence against them is said to have been furnished by the engraver who made the plates from which the forged bonds were printed.

West Phalia has $357,000 in specie.

The Italian Consul says the Italian Chamber of deputies has, at his request, passed a bill providing for a trial in absentia, and the bill will be one of the first taken up in the Senate in November, and will it becomes a law will effectually put an end to the Italian slave question.

From Knoxville, Tenn., announces the arrest of seven more of the Tennessee counterfeiters by Colonel Whitley's force. Six of them were locked up in departments of the state prison, and the number of arrests to be made in the immediate vicinity of Knoxville. It was thought these would be brought in last night, when the secret service corps will leave for North Carolina to assist in completing arrests there.

The yellow fever has disappeared at Pensacola. The Republicans say that there have been nearly, if not quite, one hundred deaths in that vicinity since the fever made its appearance in the middle of August. Last week they had six or seven hundred cases in all.

Columbus Sun: Mr. Dozier Thornton, of Estufa, who is said to have obtained some twenty to forty thousand dollars from merchants, bankers and commercial men in the city in the course of receipts false currency, etc., and then fled, has been arrested in Mississippi, and will be brought back. He must not be confounded with the gentleman of the same name in this section.

Alabama and New Jersey are, notwithstanding the popularity of the two others, balanced in the population of the two sections. New Jersey in 1870 had a population of 900,000, and Alabama 900,000.

Mr. W. C. Luke is suing Calhoun county for $10,000 under the Ku Klux act. Luke was hung at Cross Plains, Tenn., in 1870 for inciting a negro to the people.

Six yellow fever deaths in Montgomery, Saturday and Monday. Mr. Diamond, Mayor of Montgomery, and child of H. H. Booth, and Geo. Ed. C. Price.

ATLANTA:

THURSDAY OCTOBER 23, 1873.

BREVITIES.

Gold closed yesterday in New York at $3484.

Cotton closed yesterday in New York at 16½.

In Atlanta at 15½.

Nashville with the Express, is $10,206 a year.

Mr. Orange Blodin is the oldest Knight Templar in America.

Louis F. Jr., who is residing in Sacramento, Calif., is said to dress to kill.

Di Murska, they say, has some drops of gipsy blood in her.

The whole story in a nut shell.—Memphis has no system of sewerage.

A New York lady started a new fashion last week by wearing at her wedding, a white grenadine trimmed with satin.

Two new comets have been recently discovered, the one by M. Henry at Paris, the other by M. Borelli at Marsella.

A lady reporter, sent to an agricultural fair, wrote of a lot of new pigs. "They look too sweet to live."

The two women who are to occupy seats in the new Wyoming Legislature are already practicing their indomitable and dogged law books.

Redfield, of the Cincinnati Commercial, has purchased a house in Chattanooga, and proposes to make it his home for the future.

A woman stated to a London magistrate recently, that during her five years of married life her husband had knocked her down 15 times.

The Wioneer chronicles a great revival at the Methodist church in Talahasse. Among the converts was General John Tyler, a son of the ex-President.

One express company of New York City received $3,000 in currency on Monday, and it is believed that others received enough from its interior to swell the aggregate to about $3,000,000.

Mr. Stanley, the discoverer of one of Bennett's Stanley & Son, is in Africa on a special correspondence. The London Times says the Abasars' campaign is a success.

The grand cook of the London Club receives a salary of $7,000 a year. Like Wark, who never seems him, the cook rarely asperges and "astes brulee" before they are served.

Communications.

We have much original matter, whose publication is delayed by the inexorable strain upon our columns.

Harvest Gleanings from an Autumn Acre.

We are happy to announce that the first of the series of letters on this topic from the pen of the distinguished scholar, Professor Waddell of our State University, is not expected to appear next Sunday.

Spirit of the State Press.

The Monroe Advertiser, one of the best weeklies in the State, has an article in its last issue upon "The Grangers." In speaking of the Patrons of Husbandry as reformers, in opposition to monopolies, the Advertiser says they constitute "an undisciplined mob with which the monopolists have to contend."

—no ephemeral pageant to strut for a day in gorgeous uniforms for the amusement of the rabble;" but that—

It is an organized and disciplined force, composed of the serious, earnest, yeomanry of the whole country. It is inspired by the sublime faith and animated with the heroic courage of the sons of the chivalry of Europe.

Our conferees of the Atlanta Watchmen make a few pointed remarks in regard to relieving the present financial pressure. It proposes that "every man who over anything and has the money with which to pay back his creditors at once and discharge his obligations. And let those who have contracted to pay for goods, &c., with cotton at 15 cents, bring it in as rapidly as possible."

Says the Watchmen:

With this cotton, our merchants who have furnished them with supplies can pay their Northern creditors; or, if they don't owe anything, they can sell the cotton and bring money into the country, with which to buy out their cotton.

The Columbus Enquirer says it has tried to keep its plainer friends posted in regard to the cotton prospects in the markets, and when the time comes to sell it is advised that they "constitute a mob with which the monopolists have to contend."

The remainder of the late Dr. Nelson was interred at Poco in Chancery without expense, in accordance with his expressed wish, but a large sum was expended in the funeral services.

And yet in that city, on Tuesday last, as the Times boldly publishes, and we were surprised at the announcement, "money advanced in rate to one-half per cent. per day"!—182½ per cent. per annum! Surely, usury laws are useful.

The New Orleans correspondent of the Journal, under date of October 13th, writes that cotton, which was to be sold at 15 cents, was sold at 15½ cents, and dried bales were sold the day before, at as many thousands usually at the same date; and that the knowing ones who beat upon the cotton crop are offering wagers, with full talk, that this year's crop will fall under 3,750,000 bales.

A curious incident is reported in the paper this time, and in the daily of Atlanta. Winslow a few days ago, in a speech before the English-speaking subject, the private secretary to a member of Congress, was in New York at the time the Alabama came out of French waters to fight the Kearsarge. This gentleman was quite desirous of getting a passage to New York to see the battle, and the Alabama would sink the Kearsarge. For this and other violent language he was arrested and imprisoned by the United States government. He brought his claim before the Joint Commission, and received over $15,000 indemnity.

The Home Commercial is in full force. Major Robert T. Fonda, in a speech made before the County Court, Wednesday, gave notice to the tenantry of the State of Georgia that he would recently propose by John A. Wright from the text: "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" as follows: "My brethren, a man cannot afford to lose his soul. He's got but one and can't get another. If a man loses his soul, he loses his life. If he loses his life he can get another, but if he loses his child he can get another—but if he loses his soul, good bye John."

The Relief Fund.

We acknowledge the receipt of one dollar from "A Sympathizing Friend," Covington; six dollars contributed, through the pastor Rev. P. M. Ryburn, by Payne's Chapel M. E. Church, South; and fifteen dollars from Houston Lodge, No. 33, F. A. M. of Perry.

Total contributions yesterday..... $22 00

Previously acknowledged..... $19 45

Vincent Colyer says that a multitude of poor who can not get away, with a few faithful men and women who nobly do their duty, constitute the present population of Memphis. A trained band of physicians and volunteers are now at work. Many have died after deeds of heroism that honor the Christians' name.

The fever yields slowly, if at all, to the frosts. In the meanwhile the expenses are enormous, the Howard Association alone employing three hundred and twenty-five men, at an expense of $1,800 a day.

A difficult problem now is the care and disposition of the orphans. The number of orphans and widows is already estimated at fifteen hundred. The orphan asylums of other cities must open their doors to save the destitute helpless shivering innocents bereft by the terrible pestilence. The Hebrew Orphan Asylum of Cleveland, Ohio, has already agreed to take one hundred and twenty-five of the little sufferers. I: is our duty to assist in keeping them from cold and hunger. They are in sad need of clothing. Let our fund become a round thousand before the end of the week.

The State Fair.

Notwithstanding the stringency of the times, the approaching State Fair at Marion, beginning on Monday next, promises to be one of the best and most successful ever held in the State, if not in the South. As early as Monday last, over one thousand entries had been made, and the able and indefatigable Secretary, Mr. Malcolm Johnston, and his assistants were overwhelmed with the work before them, which promises to be continuous and incessant during the whole of the present week. The entries already made, up to the date mentioned, we are glad to learn, embrace the whole range of live stock, agricultural implements, domestic industry and the fine arts.

The officers of the State Agricultural Society, deserve great credit for the efforts they have made to give our State Fair all the color that the resources and products of the State will permit. Every thing has been planned upon the most liberal scale, and every effort has been made to bring to the Fair every attraction that science and art, agriculture and mechanics, amusement and enjoyment could suggest.

Mr. W. A. Hunt, the live and progressive Mayor of Macon, deserves the thanks of the people for his labors in behalf of this grand display of Georgia's wealth and resources.

He has been nobly sustained by the citizens of Macon, in all his undertakings connected with the approaching Fair.

In view of the expenditures that have been made to make the fair a success, it is to be hoped that the people of Georgia, of all classes and conditions, will bestow upon the meritorious enterprise a liberal patronage, support and encouragement.

Gov. Moses, of South Carolina, has hit a novel dodge for raising the money. He proposes to issue $1,000,000 in bills receivable, nominally for the relief of the people of South Carolina, but really to serve the purpose of the ring of which he is a bright and shining light. The State Treasury is already $400,000 short of funds to meet the appropriations made at the last session of the Legislature, and yet no interest has been paid on any portion of the public debt. The new bonds of the State are said to be worth only ten cents on the dollar.

The Wioneer chronicles a great revival at the Methodist church in Talahasse. Among the converts was General John Tyler, a son of the ex-President.

One express company of New York City received $3,000 in currency on Monday, and it is believed that others received enough from its interior to swell the aggregate to about $3,000,000.

Vincent Colyer says that a multitude of poor who can not get away, with a few faithful men and women who nobly do their duty, constitute the present population of Memphis. A trained band of physicians and volunteers are now at work. Many have died after deeds of heroism that honor the Christians' name.

The fever yields slowly, if at all, to the frosts. In the meanwhile the expenses are enormous, the Howard Association alone employing three hundred and twenty-five men, at an expense of $1,800 a day.

A difficult problem now is the care and disposition of the orphans. The number of orphans and widows is already estimated at fifteen hundred. The orphan asylums of other cities must open their doors to save the destitute helpless shivering innocents bereft by the terrible pestilence. The Hebrew Orphan Asylum of Cleveland, Ohio, has already agreed to take one hundred and twenty-five of the little sufferers. I: is our duty to assist in keeping them from cold and hunger. They are in sad need of clothing. Let our fund become a round thousand before the end of the week.

Wholesale Arrest of Counterfeitors.

Arrests Issued for Ninety Peons.

Arrests in Knoxville—Carter's Depot, Etc.—Interesting Details.

The arrests made in this city yesterday were, it seems, only one part of a elaborate plan devised upon by the government officers several months since for the suppression of counterfeiting in the Eastern District of Tennessee, and the Western District of North Carolina.

Bogus money has been so prevalent in these districts, that numerous complaints have been made to the State Department at Washington, setting forth the damage caused by the counterfeiting.

Similar measures have been taken in the State of Georgia, where the State will permit. Every thing has been planned upon the most liberal scale, and every effort has been made to bring to the Fair every attraction that science and art, agriculture and mechanics, amusement and enjoyment could suggest.

Mr. W. A. Hunt, the live and progressive Mayor of Macon, deserves the thanks of the people for his labors in behalf of this grand display of Georgia's wealth and resources.

He has been nobly sustained by the citizens of Macon, in all his undertakings connected with the approaching Fair.

In view of the expenditures that have been made to make the fair a success, it is to be hoped that the people of Georgia, of all classes and conditions, will bestow upon the meritorious enterprise a liberal patronage, support and encouragement.

Gov. Moses, of South Carolina, has hit a novel dodge for raising the money. He proposes to issue $1,000,000 in bills receivable, nominally for the relief of the people of South Carolina, but really to serve the purpose of the ring of which he is a bright and shining light. The State Treasury is already $400,000 short of funds to meet the appropriations made at the last session of the Legislature, and yet no interest has been paid on any portion of the public debt. The new bonds of the State are said to be worth only ten cents on the dollar.

The Wioneer chronicles a great revival at the Methodist church in Talahasse. Among the converts was General John Tyler, a son of the ex-President.

One express company of New York City received $3,000 in currency on Monday, and it is believed that others received enough from its interior to swell the aggregate to about $3,000,000.

Mr. Stanley, the discoverer of one of Bennett's Stanley & Son, is in Africa on a special correspondence.

The grand cook of the London Club receives a salary of $7,000 a year. Like Wark, who never seems him, the cook rarely asperges and "astes brulee" before they are served.
